MAKE PROGRESS IN TARAKAU DRIVE

By JOHN CASHMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MANILA, May 18.—Fall of Valencia and the adjacent airdrome appeared imminent today following a six-mile gain in a single day by American tanks and infantry which reached the outskirts of the important town in central Mindanao.

Driving Enemy Into Hills

"To the north and east," MacArthur added, "our forces are driving the enemy back into the hills." Meanwhile, other American Doughboys surrounded a relatively large and well-equipped Japanese force at Ipo dam, in central Luzon, while another U. S. column pushed to the very edge of Port Lamon seaplane anchorage. The anchorage was reached after a two-mile advance by the first cavalry division veterans driving for the once-formidable Jap stronghold of Infanta.

In the fight for Ipo dam, source of Manila's water supply, a force of Japs estimated to be in regimental strength resisted desperately despite a pressing flanking attack by the 43rd division infantrymen.

Huge U. S. Carrier Survives Terrific Attacks Near Japan

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The charred and battered hulk of the U.S.S. Franklin, 27,000-ton Essex class carrier, afloat at Brooklyn Navy Yard, today defiantly threw the lie at Tokyo claims that she had been bombed to a watery grave 60 miles off Kyushu last March.

The Navy proudly told the story of the wounded flat-top's gallant fight for life and how she suffered more than 1,000 casualties of her complement of at least 2,500 men. And it granted the Japs had every reason to believe they had sunk the "Fighting Lady" when, as a member of Admiral Marc A. Mitscher's carrier task force striking

Soviet Silence Causes Strain At Conference

United Nations Delegates
Still Awaiting Soviet Action On Two Big Issues

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—(INS)—The United Nations conference tensed today under the strain of silence from Russia on its two big outstanding issues and of reported peace bids from the Japanese.

The otherwise important but tedious work of the conference on such problems as voting power for the vital security council slogged ahead. But for the first time since its V-E Day flurry, the world meeting to write a charter for international peace suffered anew from distractions abroad.

Still Await Word

Early today the Big Five had not received any official word from Moscow on whether the regional security compromise negotiated with Latin-America and the trusteeship formula framed by the United States is satisfactory to Marshal Stalin.

The regional settlement was announced by Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius Tuesday. That compromise, so far as the Latin Republics are concerned, was cemented yesterday when the nine-nation Latin-American committee which negotiated with Stettinius signed the "minutes" of the discussions.

Unsettling Influence
Continued lack of a reply from Russia on the regional and trusteeship problems had a plainly unsettling influence on the immediate

E Bond Sales In State Pass First Quarter Of Quota

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—(INS)—A $3,000,000 increase in E bond sales through Wednesday sent Pennsylvania's total in the Seventh War Loan Drive to $75,400,000 or 26.2 per cent of the $288,000,000 quota in this issue.

G. Ruhland Rebmann, Jr., chairman of the state war finance committee, announced today, that total sales to individuals in the state, including E bonds, jumped $13,500,000 for a new mark of $105,800,000 or 20.9 per cent of the $506,000,000 goal for individuals.

GOVERNOR MARTIN TO MAKE ADDRESS

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 18.—Following the accelerated program adopted at the beginning of the war, Westminster College will again concentrate all its commencement activities into one day, Saturday, May 26.

Only two activities will be held prior to that day. They are the annual Christian Associations service in the local United Presbyterian church, Sunday, May 20, at which the Rev. George U. Martin of Detroit will preach, and the baccalaureate night exercises Sunday night, Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, Westminster president, will give the baccalaureate address in Wallace Memorial chapel at 7:45 p. m. Sunday.

Governor To Speak

Westminster's 91st commencement will see a war-time class of about 43 seniors complete their work at the college. Principal speaker for the graduation exercises will be Governor Edward Martin who will talk on "Our Duty to Society and Government."

Activities on commencement day will get under way at 10 a. m. with a meeting of the Board of Trustees to approve candidates for degrees.

Industrialists Guests Of United

Gather For Luncheon At Engineering Plant And Meet New Officials

TOUR IS MADE THROUGH PLANT

Industrialists of New Castle met Howard E. Cummings, plant superintendent, and Assistant Superintendent F. P. Brooks of the United Engineering & Foundry company Thursday at noon when a luncheon was held in the cafeteria of the plant, followed by a trip through the shell production plant of the company. Present also was K. C. Gardner, Jr., of the Pittsburgh office of the plant.

Mr. Cummings recently assumed the superintendency of the plant and Mr. Brooks the assistant superintendency. Prior to the luncheon the guests met the two new officials in the offices of the company, after which the entire group had lunch in the cafeteria.

Six Inch Shells

The trip through the six-inch shell plant after the lunch was interesting. For about two hours they went through a maze of steel billets, red hot slugs, lathes, presses, piercing presses, assembly lines, heat treating and the other steps necessary to the manufacture of a six-inch artillery shell from a length of steel billet.

The steps were followed in order and the visitors watched the billets cut down to slug size, the slugs heated and then pierced and rough shaped under the heavy hand of the piercing press.

From then the shell is shaped more and more, the heat treated for temper, shot blasted to clean off scale, trimmed down until it

Unconditional Surrender Only Jap Peace Terms

LONDON, May 18.—(INS)—Any peace offers coming from Japan short of unconditional surrender will be rejected by England, authoritative British sources declared today.

The comment was made in connection with reports that Japan was putting out peace feelers through Russia.

These same sources said there was no knowledge in London of any Japanese peace gesture and doubt was expressed in informed circles that any offer through Russia had been made.

Some High Nazis May Be Executed Without Trials

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, May 18.—The possibility that some high-ranking Nazi war criminals may be executed without a formal trial as a result of a big three agreement at Yalta was revealed today by authoritative sources.

These criminals on the allied "wanted" list could be dealt with by "executive policy" rather than a formal trial.

One interpretation of this disclosure was that the tri-powers could order the death of such criminals by executive decision in place of a formal trial.

It was not disclosed, however, whether the Yalta agreement would be put into force.

Observers viewed this disclosure as an explanation for certain recent puzzling features of the war crimes commission. They said it may be the explanation of why the war crimes commission had been delaying its recommendations and decisions.

Moreover it made clear why Soviet newspapers and radio spokesmen recently have been demanding immediate punishment for Nazi chieftains without waiting for a trial.

Claims U-Boat Spent Full Day In U. S. Harbor

German Officer Asserts U-Boat Was Submerged For Day In Portsmouth, N. H. Harbor

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., May 18.—(INS)—An officer of a captured German U-boat revealed today that his undersea raider once spent a full day submerged in Portsmouth harbor to obtain data on Atlantic convoys.

This startling story came from a petty officer aboard the U-873 which recently arrived in Portsmouth under naval escort. The year, he said, was 1943.

He revealed the U-boat's secret visit when a coast guard crew of five brought out a chart of the harbor as the submarine was being escorted into port for surrender.

"I don't need that," the German smiled. "We were submerged for a whole day in Portsmouth harbor in 1943."

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in his regular communique, said the Aussies forced the Japs to leave behind them large supplies of equipment. The Australians captured at least three 75-mm guns, three 37-mm pieces and more than 100 rifles.

Marines Gain Bridgehead In Okinawa City

Yanks Force Crossing Of
Asato River Into Death-
Ridden City Of Naha

JAP RESISTANCE STILL STUBBORN

By JOHN R. HENRY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

GUAM, May 18.—Doughboys and Marines of the U. S. Tenth Army were locked in violent combat with the enemy along the entire southern Okinawa battlefront today, with the Yanks fighting in the confines of both the eastern and western anchors of the Jap defense lines.

Leathernecks of the Sixth Marine Division threatened the western support of the enemy line when they forced a crossing of the Asato river and gained a bridgehead in the death-ridden city of Naha. The capital, described literally in front dispatches as a "city of the dead," was reduced to rubble by concerted land-sea-air bombardment over several months.

Naha City Entered

Entrance of the American force into the city, first enemy metropolis to feel the tread of American boots, was effected after patrolling elements of the Sixth Division ventured into the northern sector. The Marines roamed about for five hours without seeing a live Jap, though the ruined streets and buildings were thickly strewn with bodies of the fallen enemy.

As the Yanks began to withdraw, a Jap emerged from hiding and hurled a grenade. Then the Marines had to scurry for cover, their way being covered by many Jap snipers.

Sought To Lure Yanks

Announcement by Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz that the Marines "gained a small bridgehead" across the Asato on Thursday indicated the possibility that enemy snipers had lain low in the hope of luring large American forces into the city

Redistribution Of U. S. Forces Is Gigantic Task

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially For I. N. S.)

NEW YORK, May 18.—The redistribution of American armed forces from Europe to the far east is a problem of such stupendous magnitude that few people on the outside have any realization as to the transportation facilities or the time required.

First it should be remembered that, according to all published statements, the men of our armed forces in Europe will be mostly transferred to the far east via the United States. It has generally been stated that our armies in the west totaled perhaps three and a half million men. About four hundred thousand are to be left in Europe, and something more than a million, if possible, discharged. That means were have over three million men to be returned to the United States and say, perhaps two million of them are then to be transferred to the Asiatic battlefields.

Huge Problem

From Cherbourg to New York is more than three thousand miles. Three million men must be transferred. (Continued on Page Two)

And we're coughing now every now and then in an old fashioned winter way, the vitamins must have run down I guess, it's cool, fifty-seven today.

Aleutian Based Bombers Blast At Jap Shipping

(BULLETIN)

AN ALEUTIAN BASE, May 18.—(INS)—Eleventh AAF headquarters revealed today that a flight of Liberator bombers blasted Japanese shipping in Paramushiro strait, sinking one enemy vessel.

The bombers made their strikes off Katakana naval base and Kasliwara Bay yesterday.

Three direct hits were seen on the enemy vessel which was described as a small cargo or escort ship. The ship sank immediately after being hit.

Other results of the raid were obscured by a smoke screen thrown up by the enemy.

B-24 gunners damaged two out of a group of three enemy planes which attempted interception. Some damage was sustained by the Liberators from heavy ack-ack fire.

WOULD LIMIT PRICE CONTROL TO SIX MONTHS

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(INS)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) demanded today that the price control act be extended only six months instead of the 18 months the administration wants unless it is drastically amended.

At the same time, Taft charged that OPA's "subordination of everything else to price control" is responsible for the nation's difficulties with meats and other goods as well.

"And putting it into the hands of Economic Stabilizer Fred Vinson isn't going to help—he thinks the same as they do," he added.

Taft declared that the OPA has "made a fetish of fixed price" "doesn't care whether it forces people out of production or out of business or not."

Taft said he will offer his bill to end wage control and give industry the profit margins they had in three pre-war years after next January 1, as an amendment to the price control extension bill.

If he fails to win adoption of his amendment, Taft said, he will make the alternative proposal that the extension be whittled down to six months, to permit Congress to make a new appraisal of the situation as the Japanese war and partial reconversion progress.

Waste Paper, Vital In War Effort, Comes
Tomorrow

Chairman Joseph A. Hartman of the Waste Paper Salvage Committee today asked that all bundled waste paper which is to be collected Saturday, May 19, be placed on porches or in other sheltered places if it rains, and the indications are that it will.

Plans for the collection Saturday are complete and it is hoped sufficient adult volunteers will turn out to handle the trucks and load the box cars with the paper that is collected. Boy Scouts will ride the trucks and act as collectors of the bundles.

Householders are asked to bundle all newspapers separately, magazines separately, cardboard and books in separate bundles and none of the bundles should be more than 15 pounds each. They securely to prevent breaking apart.

The net proceeds of the collection Saturday will go to the Salvation Army for its station wagon fund. The paper itself will go to processing mills where it will be made into containers for essential war materials.

ASSERTS ALLIES KNOW WHERE TO SEIZE HIMMLER

LONDON, May 18.—(INS)—The London News Chronicle today described the missing Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler as "an artificial mystery" at allied supreme headquarters.

The paper said that British Second Army officials knew where Himmler was and "presumably could take him into custody at any time."

Order End To Yanks Saluting Captured Nazis

Military Rules For Conduct In Connection With Captured Germans Are Announced

By JOHN E. LEE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

U. S. SEVENTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, May 18.—A military courtesy memorandum from Allied supreme headquarters circulated at U. S. Seventh Army headquarters today put an official end to American soldiers saluting captive German officers.

The memorandum stated specifically that there will be no saluting between German and Allied forces. Captive Nazi officers must stand at attention when in the room with Allied officers.

And German soldiers must stand at attention when they are in the same room with American enlisted men.

Moreover German enlisted men must stand at attention in the open when Allied officers approach.

From Gen. Eisenhower

The directive from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters also expressly banned courtesy calls between Allied and German officers. At the same time German civilians were ordered to stop saluting German officers.

The memorandum also recalled that public playing of the German national anthem is banned, along with the public or private display of Nazi emblems.

Meanwhile Howard Byrne, Stars and Stripes correspondent with the Seventh Army, reported that captured Marshal Albert Kesselring and 81 officers on his staff have been booted out of their palatial headquarters in Berchtesgaden.

At one time they made their headquarters in the town's most luxurious hotel but now they are billeted in a former girls school and are sleeping four to a room in double-tiered bunks.

However life is still somewhat bearable for the captured German officers, Byrne reported. Their domestic staff consists of 40 maids, 26 orderlies and 13 chauffeurs and these officers are still permitted to wear their sidearms.

There is no saluting between American soldiers and Nazi officers but Byrne reported that doughboys of the 101st Airborne Division—the heroes of Bastogne—are required to come to attention when these German soldiers approach.

ported over that distance. A round trip for one vessel over that route requires between 65 and 70 days, or more than two months. Then the two million of them, after they arrive in the United States must, after regroupment, be transported largely by rail to our west coast. That is another three thousand miles.

It is supposed that we have more than 70 divisions in Europe, and to move one division and its equipment, 15 Liberty ships are necessary. Therefore, to bring those 70 divisions home, it will require well over one thousand Liberty vessels. That many are not available at one time.

Will Take Over Year

The job will probably take over a year.

After we land those 70 divisions on the east coast, they are destined for the far east, must be transported over land across the United States. It takes 60 freight trains of 20 cars each, or a total of about 1,300 freight cars to move one armored division.

Now, when those divisions reach the west coast and are to be shipped to the far eastern battlefields, there must be shipped also between five and ten tons of equipment and supplies for every man, and then thereafter one ton per month must be sent overseas to every man in our armed forces on those Asiatic fields of combat.

A book could be written on this problem of logistics and still hardly cover it.

240 Howitzer
In addition to the shell line the guests visited the 240 mm howitzer line where the giant heavy artillery howitzers are turned out. This is an operation that is huge in size but delicate in precision as the work of a watchmaker.

From a long steel bar there finally evolves a masterpiece of gun construction, a barrel, some 23 feet long, rifled inside to hair width of absolute precision, the breech block turned out and fitted to the howitzer and at the end the mechanism is fitted together so finely that a child can operate it. All in preparation of course for the blasting of the Japs out of their island hideouts.

It is an interesting place, the shell and howitzer lines of United. Not only interesting to the men visiting yesterday but for the most part amazing for with few exceptions the visitors were laymen with little knowledge of the intricacies of machine shop practice.

conference program. The Big Five cancelled a scheduled meeting late yesterday because of the delayed Soviet reaction, and submission of the regional compromise to its working committee was again delayed.

There was some San Francisco speculation that the Soviets might have been affronted by the United States and Latin-American refusal to grant two or three days delay in voting on admission of Argentina to the conference two weeks ago. Soviet Foreign Commissar Molotov pleaded for a little more time before passing upon the Argentine question but Stettinius pressed the issue in committee and won immediate admittance of the former pro-Fascist Latin nation.

Also contributing to the conference "jitters" were reports from Washington and London that Japanese peace feels had been extended to Britain and the United States—one supposedly received at San Francisco through a Soviet diplomatic channel.

nose to tail, readying for the take off. Pilots were in their cockpits. Crewmen spun propellers, roared, chocks, saw that rockets, bombs and shells were in place and secure.

On the hangar deck below, other planes stood ready to be elevated to the takeoff deck. They, too, were loaded and pilots tense.

Bombs In Direct Hits

Then from the clouds above a Jap plane plummeted. No suicide pilot, he drew out of his dive to release two armor piercing 500-pound bombs. Both struck home. One exploded smack on the after part of the flight deck, the concussion disintegrating planes and pilots, exploding rockets, shells and bombs, throwing men and parts of men and debris far out into the sea.

The second went through the deck, blasted in the hangar, it too, set off explosions, churned gasoline, flames, knocked out communications, ventilation systems, oil and water lines and power.

On top, men went to work against the disaster. Disaster seemed inevitable. Japs tried to press their attack again, but gunners who refused to leave their guns drove them off.

Rockets roared the length of the vessel. Explosions constantly threatened. Below were magazines filled with five-inch shells. Near the center of the fire flaming gasoline cascaded over the sides.

Many Dive Overboard

Some men, thinking it hopeless, dove overboard. Others were blasted into the sea. Damage control parties were decimated. Every man who could took a hand. The guns were kept fully manned and blazing. The wounded were tended.

Busiest of all was the Catholic chaplain, a bespectacled, studious Jesuit priest. There was no limit to the heroism of Father Joseph O'Callahan of Boston. He was all over the place.

He nursed and comforted the wounded, administered the rites to the dying, dashed from these priestly chores to fighting fire, walking right into the teeth of the blaze to rescue others, passing ammunition still so hot that it might momentarily explode and tossing it into the sea.

Destroyers Pick Up Wounded
Destroyers hovered around, picking up the wounded. Two of them, the Hunt and Marshall, picked up more than 600 survivors while the Hickox and Miller saved others.

For an hour the situation grew worse by the minute but by 9:30 a.m. the light cruiser Santa Fe came by to take off wounded.

By early afternoon the fires were brought under control and the carrier, listing 10 to starboard, was taken in tow by the heavy cruiser Pittsburgh. Fighters flew a constant protective patrol. The following morning, the ship had been partly righted and a fire room resumed operation.

On March 21, two days after the disaster, the Franklin picked up 300 of her crewmen from other ships. One vessel offered more men and food. The Franklin independently picked back. "We've plenty of men and food. All we want to do is to get the hell out of here."

The next day they did, with a cruiser escort. The Franklin moved tipily, her mainmast cocked to one side, her foremast a stump, her flight deck gone and her plates buckled and burned. But her flag fluttered high as she came into New York harbor.

The Franklin was commissioned January 31, 1944.

ern sector of Luzon, main island of the Philippines, were "steadily driving the enemy back on Santa Fe."

Adverse weather conditions, this being the rainy season, continued to prohibit large-scale aid operation.

However, MacArthur said that dive-bombers and fighters supporting the ground troops advancing on all sectors attacked Jap defenses "with good effect." Similarly successful were naval units which swept coastal positions in the path of the Yanks.

The Tarakan invasion campaign made good progress, with Australian troops pushing down the Amari river to within a mile of the east coast of that sector. A minor Jap counter-attack north of Tarakan city was easily repulsed by the Aussies, who with Dutch units are rapidly clearing the island just east of oil-rich Borneo.

Other Marines, northeast of Naha, captured "Sugarloaf Hill" after heavy fighting declared Nimitz in a communique which revealed also that troops of the First Marine Division reached the town of Wana. The Leathernecks, thus, threatened to outflank the capital from the east.

Seek To Unhinge Defense

Infantrymen of the 96th Division were attempting, meantime, to unhinge the Japanese defense based on Yonabaru on the east coast of Okinawa.

Japanese forces resisted stubbornly from the ridges south of captured Conical Hill, which dominate both Yonabaru and the most stubbornly defended Jap stronghold of all—Shuri.

Major Gen. Pedro Augusto Del Valle's First Division Marines co-operated with the 77th Infantry Division in an effort to cross tortuous ground before Shuri, which is believed to be the site of the Japanese headquarters.

Science can help restore youthfulness to face and throat

Would you like the skin of your face, your throat, to grow younger again? If so, try scientific ENDOCREME. ENDOCREME, with its 7-year record of success, is helping thousands to improve the very skin itself, not merely its superficial appearance. For thousands, it is doing this to a degree heretofore thought impossible. The secret of ENDOCREME'S success is ACTIVOL. This ACTIVOL is the laboratory counterpart of natural, skin-vitalizing substance... a substance that decreases with age. Thus, when you apply ENDOCREME, it helps compensate for this loss. Absorbed under the skin's surface, ENDOCREME acts to rebuild cells, tissues. Thus, ageing, dry, coarse, lined skins tend to become fresher, firmer, smoother, more youthfully attractive. How better can you invest your cosmetic dollars? Many report marked improvement in only 30 days.

The Cost Of European War

Not for decades will an accurate total of all losses—human and material—in the European war be arrived at. Estimates of human losses are being made first because they are easiest to calculate.

Battle casualties were 9,000,000 or 10,000,000 killed and an equal number totally disabled. Millions more suffered less severe wounds. Axis and Allied battle losses were approximately equal—approximately 15,000,000. Germany suffered four-fifths of the Axis losses and Russia two-thirds of the Allied losses. American casualties in Europe were approximately 800,000 including 145,000 killed.

Civilian figures are harder to compute. Millions succumbed to starvation, disease, bombing and torture in Nazi concentration camps. Surviving millions will bear permanent scars of body and mind. Of Poland's prewar 35,000,000, it is believed 10,000,000 have perished or disappeared. British civilian casualties numbered 145,000.

This is a ghastly sacrifice on the altar of totalitarian greed for power. Scars of earth and wreckage of man-made structures can be restored, but there are wounds not so easily healed. In ways not now foreseen the cost in human terms will be evident when those living today are succeeded by future generations.

Hegira To Pacific

With war's spotlight turned definitely on the Pacific theater, chief interest is in the length of time necessary to implement an all-out campaign against the Japs. According to Lieut. Gen. Robert C. Richardson Jr., the United States will have a sizeable force of Army troops in that area in three months.

Tentative plans are reported to call for sending at least 6,000,000 picked troops against the Nipponese. To American forces will be added several hundred thousand British fighting men. Australian and Dutch forces already are engaged in the campaign against Borneo. These figures indicate the immense scope of future operations. The high command takes the position defeat of Japan will be more than an afternoon's picnic.

At no time in the Pacific have American military commanders had a million men at their disposal. In spite of that comparatively small force, they have mounted an offensive from Tarawa to Okinawa, a distance of approximately 4,000 miles. With magnificent aid from the Navy and Air Force, they have carried war to the Japs in a manner that sets the pattern for future and decisive operations.

Is That Trip Necessary?

Removal of many official controls since the fall of Germany doesn't mean that the public is relieved from the necessity for self-denial regarding travel by rail, bus or the air.

The plan fact is that the railroads especially are entering upon a new and difficult phase of the biggest job in their history, one that will test their facilities to the utmost.

For almost four years they have been carrying four times as many passengers as in the First World War and two and a half times as much freight, while operating with only 75 per cent of the number of freight and passenger cars they had in 1917-1918.

Now enormous supplies of weapons and munitions and huge armies must be transported to the Pacific Coast to wind up the war with Japan. The immensity of the task can scarcely be realized. But when ODT calls upon the American people to abstain from all except absolutely necessary travel, and to plan vacations at home or trips that will not entail long journeys, it points to an imperative, patriotic duty.

Before buying a ticket, let every good citizen ask himself: "Is this trip necessary?" If the public fails to co-operate this summer, there will be nothing left to do but institute rationing of all rail travel.

The Logical Man

The War Department's plans for the occupation and "de-nazification" of Germany clearly indicate the unprecedented nature of the task confronting the Allies now that the fighting in Europe has ended. Never in history have this nation's authorities been entrusted with a problem of comparable scope and complexity.

There are two parts to this problem. Within the zone controlled by American forces it will be necessary to set up a complete government, as the War Department's announcement evidently contemplates. The dissolution of nazidom has left a vacuum that must be filled, and therefore the American occupation forces will fill it by exercising control over every phase of German life—political, economic and even social.

Moreover, it is imperative that this machinery be geared with similar machinery set up by the Russians, British and French in their zones, so there will have to be constant contact among the four authorities.

Possibly the second imperative will be the more difficult to meet. It is inevitable that the Russians will not always see eye to eye with the British and Americans on the treatment to be accorded beaten Germany. Yet there must be a large measure of uniformity to prevent any possibility that the Germans will be able to play off one against the other.

Fortunately, there is available for this task a commander who has succeeded in fusing diverse forces into one great fighting team and who enjoys the prestige of many great victories. General Eisenhower understands the need of cooperation and knows how to get it. He is the logical man to represent the United States on the Allied Control Commission and administer the American zone.

It wasn't necessary to report that Molotov speaks only Russian.

The baseball season is on once more which reminds us to wonder again what the baseball umpires do in the winter time.

Debate T. V. A. And Idea Behind It

CHATTANOOGA, Tennessee, May 18.—Sitting around a luncheon table, we debated TVA and the TVA idea. Present were business and professional men from this city who have watched the progress of TVA from its inception.

On one thing all were agreed. That is that TVA has not tried in any way to dominate the life of this region. It has been a cooperator, ready and willing, but never intrusive.

They were generally agreed, too, that David E. Lilienthal, as chairman of TVA, has done a sound, workmanlike job. They spoke of him with genuine respect.

For at least one business man present, TVA had meant a definite gain. Acquiring a string of barges which made a low cost haul possible, he was able to expand his business.

You hear of many similar instances. I was told of one industrialist whose power bill had been reduced several hundred thousand dollars a year. He was a conservative. He didn't like the TVA—at the beginning, at least. Yet, there in dollars and cents on his account books, the net result was an impressive gain.

"He took it just like castor oil," one of his friends said. "He hated it, but still he knew it was good for him."

Against Government In Business
In the course of our talk at lunch, the two chief critics of TVA were not in reality criticizing the agency itself. They said, along with the others, that it had done a great deal of good; brought important new developments. They did not, however, like the idea of having the government in such a large-scale development.

"How could anybody but the government come in and do it on this scale?" someone asked.
The answer was that business could have done it more slowly. It might have taken longer, but it would eventually have been done—the dam building, at least—by private enterprise. Then we got into a general discussion—such as you can hear all over America today—about what the function of government should be. Where should it stop? How far should it go?

What impressed me throughout the valley was the general acceptance of TVA. One reason may be the way in which it has demonstrated its value to the war effort. Without TVA power, we could not have fabricated enough aluminum to make General Arnold's fleets of bombers. Or, take a smaller instance, TVA's mapping unit has been expanded to help make the acres of more complicated details maps—needed by the War Department.

Political Opposition
Today the chief opposition to TVA comes from the politicians. On the one hand is Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, who has consistently fought the agency and Lilienthal's chairman. He takes the old-fashioned political view that since TVA is mostly in his state he ought to get the passport out of it. This ignores the fact, of course, that TVA is set up on a strict civil service basis as a non-political agency.

On the other hand is Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes, who, until recently, has fought the idea of regional autonomy for power authorities. Determined to keep such vast power projects as Bonneville and Grand Coulee in the northwest under the wing of his department, Ickes has tried vainly to have TVA brought into Interior too.

It is considered significant down here that Ickes should have recently appointed as superintendent of the Smoky Mountains National park one of McKellar's political henchmen, Blair A. Ross. "This is the same man whom Ickes once years ago publicly and indignantly refused to name to that post. Apparently he has been persuaded to change his mind."

The man responsible for TVA are now dead. It was thanks to the political courage and persistence of the late Senator George Norris of Nebraska that Muscle Shoals was preserved as a national resource. Norris, whose autobiography was published this week, fought a long, hard fight for the TVA idea.

One of Franklin Roosevelt's first acts in 1933 was to make Norris' dream a reality. TVA is in the tradition of these two great Americans. American in concept and pattern, it will stand long after jealous critics have been forgotten.

TEETHING
Baby is cutting teeth. It is a wonderful experience for her. She feels like biting something hard. The gums may be a little tender. She may feel uncomfortable. She is restless and irritable.

It usually takes more patience to care for a teething baby. Some of them go through it without any trouble at all. Some have a stormy time.

Perhaps it is well to give her something solid to bite on. Be sure that it is large to swallow or cause trouble. It may be well to change the diet gradually. A little bit of solid food is enough at first.

There is no hurry. Let her get used to things at her own speed. There are no two children exactly alike. She likes a little cuddling and it is good for her.

Just before war's end the Germans invented a U-boat that "breathed" under water. A sort of last gasp?

Tricks Of The Trade
The diner was very upset at the sight of a wine-begone looking cat prying about among the tables and asked the waitress to have the cat put out.

"Sorry, sir," replied the waitress, "but it's like this: when there's rabbit stew on the menu, the manager thinks it adds to the enjoyment of the meal if our cat is well in evidence, so to speak, sir."

No little child should be denied this necessary home education. He need not be, since road books for this purpose can be borrowed from a public library and some excellent ones can be bought for as little as ten cents. However, it is better to buy a few rather expensive ones rather than many cheap ones. Also, practice. Every home has a Bible, which is full of poetry and vivid, fascinating stories. In many homes, moreover, the school reader of the primary grades is available and is fine for this purpose. There is no better way for the child to improve his reading at school than to read at home to a baby brother or sister. From the many letters which describe the way the baby is being read to and hundreds of others asking me to send my special list of books for reading to the baby and young child and addressing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City, enclosing a stamped envelope, I infer that my suggestions in this direction have been taken seriously.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

READ ALOUD TO NERVOUS CHILD

If you have been reading my column for some years you know I have often urged parents to read to the baby as soon as he will look at a picture for a few moments, and continue reading to him until past the time when he enters school.

Why? To train him in good habits of concentration, prepare him to listen to what will be told him later at school, to enhance his speech development, fire his imagination, give him something to think about and talk about, create in him a love of reading and good books. It also cultivates a closer companionship between him and the parent or older child who reads to him, and affords him a vast deal of happiness.

While but few parents, or their substitutes, can or will tell stories to the baby and young child, practically anybody can read to him—parent, grandparent, older child or caretaker. In these times when so many young children are left in the care of persons other than the mother, reading to them has more value than before.

Nervous Child
Some mothers have written me about the child 2, 3, 5, who won't be still long enough to listen but must be moving about or doing something all the time. They try to read to him a few times, but he needs to be read to most in order to calm him down and to build concentration habits in him. With such a child proceed as follows:

Being very calm yourself and speaking in soft tones, show him a book with attractive pictures and a few rhymes or prose sentences. On the page, while he looks at the pictures, talk to him about them by reading what is there. You may need to fondle him in order to quiet him at first and gently and tenderly restrain his hands if he wants always to turn quickly to the next page.

Child Who Resists
If he resists and insists on leaving the book and put it away. Bring it back later and proceed as before. Keep repeating in this way and you will find him gradually more interested and more eager to have you read. I can think of nothing better for the jumpy, fidgety tot, provided you don't expose him to frightening pictures and reading matter.

No little child should be denied this necessary home education. He need not be, since road books for this purpose can be borrowed from a public library and some excellent ones can be bought for as little as ten cents. However, it is better to buy a few rather expensive ones rather than many cheap ones. Also, practice. Every home has a Bible, which is full of poetry and vivid, fascinating stories. WASHINGTON,

Council Delays Action Of Sewer Connection Plea

Holds Up Action On Request That Property Outside City Connect To City Sewers

Council met Thursday in city hall and referred to committee again a request that the Community Realty company, represented by J. C. Gillfillan, be permitted to carry out an agreement, made with the city years ago, that a plot be connected with the city's sanitary sewer system. The plot is on the east side of Highland avenue near the city line.

Solicitor R. M. White, when asked by council, gave his opinion that the agreement reached was not binding upon the city and only provided the terms by which a connection could be made.

It then became a question as to whether the connection should be permitted, council having indicated that people were buying property outside the city then seeking the comforts of the city at the expense of city taxpayers.

The discussion then ranged to how many "outside connections" there were. Recently a report showed 22 persons were paying for the privilege. However, Solicitor Robert White said there were probably a hundred or more, permits having been granted years ago, a fact councilmen cost having been made, and later no account kept.

Now Inadequate
Council took the attitude that the city's sewage system now is inadequate and it would be detrimental were a multitude of outside connections permitted. Councilman Joseph D. Alexander suggested that council make a set and fast rule instead of making "fish of one and another" or in other words adopt a positive stand relative to connections from non-city property to city sewers.

It was brought out by City Engineer John S. Street that the city almost a score years ago had received good money for preparing a survey for the accommodations of New Castle when it had a population of 125,000. Practically nothing has been done about the survey and very few officials have ever given thorough study to it. He pointed out there is need of study and plans adopted for increasing sewage facilities here.

Ninety-Five Deaths On Traffic List In State During March

Two firetrucks headed for the same fire smash up, with a fatal death as a result; a man falls asleep on a truck and tumbles off, killing himself; an auto on the wrong side of the road hits a bicycle. All these and many other accidents occurred in Pennsylvania during the month of March with a resulting total of 95 deaths, a report from the Bureau of Highway Safety reveals.

Although this figure is not an increase in numbers over last year's total for March, it is an increase nevertheless; for the fact that fewer cars are now on the road than were being driven in 1944 should mean fewer accidents this year, the report continues.

Lawrence county has a total of four fatalities for the first three months of 1945, whereas the total for the same period of 1944 was five. All four fatalities this year have been in urban sections, however, with none at all in rural areas. Last year the rural areas had four fatalities, with only one in urban areas.

All four accidents involved the death of a pedestrian, the report further explained. Last year, one of the rural fatalities was a pedestrian and the one urban fatality was also a pedestrian.

Huge Underground Quarters For Nazis Leaders Is Located

By JAMES L. KILGALLIN
BAD NEUHEIM, May 18.—Even before the war in Europe was brought on by the Germans, they realized there might be a time when they would be so harassed they would need a bomb-proof shelter far behind any European battle lines.

This was revealed today with the discovery of an astounding underground headquarters built for Field Marshal Kellie von Rundstedt deep inside a mountain where the German general staff planned to direct its battles if everywhere else was unsafe.

This headquarters is at Ziegenberg, 10 miles north of Bad Neuheim. It has a special highway for Adolf Hitler and was built by a small army of TODT organization workers. They descended on the tiny village of Ziegenberg in the early summer of 1939.

The entire huge headquarters was built into the side of a mountain known as "Goat Mountain" and took almost a whole year to complete the amazing layout which was designed to be used as an emergency battle center for the German general staff.

This reporter visited the giant hideaway today and was astounded to see the labyrinthine maze of tunnels, chambers and offices complete with living rooms, kitchens, bathrooms, however, with a ventilating system, elaborate plumbing large enough to house several hundred persons in the nearby pine forest.

The TODT workers constructed a series of seven villas especially for Hitler and his entourage. No expense or effort was spared to make everything as safe and comfortable for the Nazi big shots as possible.

Von Rundstedt, Field Marshal Albert Kesselring and Hitler all visited the place in recent months. It would not be surprising if it developed that the ill-fated Ardennes offensive of last December was planned from Bad Neuheim.

Entrances Camouflaged
The central living room for the generals was wide and roomy, and from the center was hung a big chandelier.

This room evidently was where Hitler, Von Rundstedt and Kesselring worried and pondered over the maps which showed the retreat of German forces before the Allies.

Every entrance to the secret headquarters was camouflaged by nets strung over poles covered with leaves to resemble the nearby forest. Residents of towns nearby said that Hitler was a rare visitor to the mountain hideout. His last visit, they said, was in February.

Desolation and defeat hung over the Von Rundstedt underground hideaway today as a symbol of the small-minded men who took their defeat the hard way.

Sgt. Wilson Dies At Head Of Patrol

Dewey Avenue Marine Is Mortally Wounded While Seeking Jap Machine Gun Nest

By SGT. HERMAN KOGAN
Marine Corps Combat Correspondent
OKINAWA—(Delayed)—Leading a patrol in search of a Jap machine gun nest on Mount Yateke on Motobu peninsula Marine Sgt. James E. Wilson, 20, of 1060 Dewey street, New Castle, Pa., was killed by enemy fire.

Wilson's battalion, part of the Sixth Marine Division's 22nd Regiment, was assigned to ferret out Japs left behind when the Fourth Regiment had broken up organized resistance on the towering mountain.

He was climbing a steep trail when a Nambu opened fire. He died shortly after combat had carried him down the hill. The gun was found the next morning by other Marines in the battalion and destroyed.

Wilson previously had fought in the Marshalls and on Guam.

Babson Talks To Adults On Education Investment

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1945, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BABSON PARK, Mass. May 18.—Now that V-E Day has occurred, the many G. I. boys who will return to civilian life will be anxious about their education.

BABSON

They can be assured that their problems are being given deep thought. Both government and school authorities are conscious of their obligations to returning soldiers. They are equally conscious of the help needed from servicemen for continued promotion of world security. In that spirit may I offer a word to servicemen.

Mere Information vs Real Education
Education is every man's top investment. However, let us be specific. You may think that all you will need is information; but information is not education. Information is merely the raw material. The finished product is development of your brain. For $10 or up you can buy a dictionary which will inform you on every word ever uttered by the master minds of all ages. For $125 you can buy an encyclopedia which will inform you of every fundamental idea known to date.

Both a dictionary and an encyclopedia are blue-chip, gilt-edge investments. I heartily recommend them. They put into your possession more information than any man or woman could digest in a thousand years of daily study. However, you will find among the pages of these or any other reference book

Importance of Character
Words and even ideas are only scratches on the brain until you develop the mentality and character to apply them. Mentality is what enables you to convert information into action. Character is what enables you to do things you don't want to do when you don't want to do them—the secret of success in any man's world. This results in self-mastery—a most important requirement for health, income and happiness.
Another great asset which most young people and many adults lack is a philosophy of life. As sea captains need to know the port for which they are heading, so students should have a program, purpose and goal. Until then we should never be given a diploma.

Renewing One's Youth
"Going to bed mentally" is the best diagnosis of a malady which besets too many investors and businessmen. It is what happens when the maturing mind meets current doubts and dilemmas. A businessman may "retire"—in the sense of going to bed mentally—when he gets into a tax row with the government, quits under fire, and goes AWOL from active life. Discouraged investors or executives really need a good dose of adult education. It brings rejuvenation and restoration—the new discovery in the old quest for the fountain-of-youth. To regain that schoolboy feeling, go again to school.

All of us, soon or late, are at a spot where we must go ahead or fall behind. The choice is to sit down, lie down and do nothing—or begin the repair and modernization of our outworn and run-down brains. That may not be professional therapy, but it is extremely practical advice. Invest in mental stimulus. No stock or bond, no real estate, savings accounts, nor insurance can safeguard (1) character, (2) health, (3) income. These "big three" are the fruit of education.
"Diplomas" Mean Less Than "Dog Tags"

Under the administration of political-minded school boards, the public educational system is corroded and rusty. Wayward parents are accessories. A generation of youngsters is Sloppy Joe in apparel, deportment, mentality and character. "Graduation" has lost its meaning. Once the word implied a step forward—not a halt in education. The whole educational system, from pre-nursery to post-graduate, needs reform.

It is the new ground, however, the fertile fields of adult education, which beckon most happily. Adult education appears at present to hold out the optimum chance of maximum progress. Children, by nature, are somewhat superior "sponges", nimble learners. Adults, by very definition, are far superior in spirit and the will to learn and achieve. If you cry, No! to this claim, there is by you add one more condemnation of educational system. For what is the purpose of education and of life itself, if I today am nowise superior to the child I was?

Farmers Ignore Ceiling Prices In Chicken Sales

PITTSBURGH, May 18.—(INS)—A witness on Thursday asserted before the federal grand jury investigating the western Pennsylvania black market, that farmers ignored OPA ceiling prices and auctioned off poultry to the highest bidders.

War Memorial Ideas Show Wide Variety

Whatever complications arise from the variety of suggestions put forth on the subject of memorials to soldiers and sailors who have served in this war, that variety certainly shows, in most cases, a complete lack of rubber-stamping. Most of the ideas are still about as independent as the 13 original states. For example:

Frank L. Burton, superintendent of New Castle schools says: "What we really need are district recreation centers, not just a big central one. We have the Cathedral for big meetings; why not use the money to build swimming pools on the south side, on the north hill, and so on, together with a tennis court, perhaps, and a building which youngsters in the locality could use for basketball and other games and meetings. The money should be put into something which will be available to all parts of town."

John Griddle, local representative of the United Steelworkers of America: "Education is the important thing, and that doesn't just mean reading, writing and arithmetic. It means having people know that ignorance and misunderstanding are in back of war, and in back of mass acceptance of fascism. If every young high school graduate who wanted to go to college were sent to college, and if adult education were widespread, the cost would be a drop in the bucket compared to the cost of this war."

W. Walter Braham, judge of Lawrence county: "Instead of all these veterans organizations having their separate little meeting places, they should have one central hall. They'll have to take into account the large numbers of veterans which will be coming back to join these organizations. By cooperation, they could have a fine memorial hall."

JOHNSTOWN—Cambria county officials were believed to be the first to act under a new state law and establish a service bureau for veterans of World War II. Veterans organizations will co-operate with the bureau.

Local Man's Crew Piles Up Scores

(Special to The News)

THE PHILIPPINES—Robert M. England, aviation radioman, 2 c. USN, of New Castle, Pa., was a crew member of a Navy Liberator which recently sank a small freighter-transport and a merchantman, shot down a transport plane, and strafed a radio station in long-range patrols. In addition, the four-motored bomber took a heavy toll of Jap small craft, destroying or damaging numerous barges and luggers.

The aircrewman's Liberator caught the freighter-transport outside of Hong Kong harbor, China. Coming out of a heavy overcast, the bomber made three runs in which its gunners poured 1,200 rounds of bullets into the target. The heavy strafing silenced all anti-aircraft and started fires throughout the vessel. When the Navy plane left the scene, the ship was dead in the water and sinking.

England is a member of a patrol bombing squadron attached to the Seventh Fleet. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. England, live at 411 Hillcrest avenue, New Castle. Three-fourths of the people of the Netherlands live below sea level.

U. S. S. FRANKLIN

The valiant "unsinkable" aircraft carrier U. S. S. Franklin, although one of Uncle Sam's newest giant flatboats, already was a battle-tried veteran of the war against Japan before the nearly fatal battle March 19 off the Japanese coast.

"Big Ben" as she is affectionately known among Navy men, was christened October 14, 1943, and soon after her subsequent commissioning she sailed out of Pearl Harbor to meet the enemy for the first time on June 16, 1944.

Before she was a year old the Franklin had taken part in six attacks on Jap-held islands and supported the invasions of Guam and the Palau.

When she received her nearly mortal wounds March 9 she had just recovered from an earlier bombing. That occurred in the battle for Leyte Gulf last October.

An aerial bomb dropped by a Japanese Zero struck her flight deck. While her crew fought resultant fires for two hours the Franklin's planes, after attacking objectives on Luzon, were taken aboard other flatboats.

The damage was repaired at Bremerton, Wash., and Big Ben immediately returned to the wars, soon afterward to again be the victim of a Jap divebomber that was shot down a few seconds later.

Hoffman's Pictures Exhibited In India

Water Colors Done By Cpl. Everett Hoffman, Comrade, Will Be Shown In Pittsburgh

(Special to The News)

A B-29 SUPERFORTRESS BASE, India—Cpl. Everett C. Hoffman of New Castle, Pa., is one of two members of the "Billy Mitchell" group, 20th Bomber Command who are using their spare time to continue the art work in which they were interested in civilian life.

Cpl. Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoffman, 805 West Washington street, New Castle, Pa., and Staff Sgt. Francis T. Kane, of Wilmington, Delaware, recently had a series of water color paintings placed on exhibition in the American Red Cross "B-29 Club" at a base of the Bomber Command. The twenty pictures were completed when the two men were on furlough at Agra, fortress city of the Moghul emperors and the city in which is located the famous Taj Mahal.

The artmen-artists selected like subjects—the Taj Mahal, bazaar scenes, temples, and Indian village life—and painted distinct impressions of these scenes. The exhibit is being sent to the United States where the paintings will be shown to the public at art museums in a number of cities including Pittsburgh, Wilmington and Richmond.

Young Veteran Made Instructor

Just 19 years old now, Staff Sgt. William Tanner, veteran of 50 missions as radioman-gunner on a 15th Air Force B-29 Liberator over numerous enemy targets, has been assigned as an instructor to Fort Mevor, Florida, after completing the instructor's course in Flexible Gunnery at Laredo Army Air Field, Laredo, Texas.

Sgt. Tanner returned from Italy in January with the Air Medal and three Oak Leaf Clusters, the Presidential Citation, and the Distinguished Unit Badge. The young instructor enlisted in the Air Force in November, 1943. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tanner, R. D. 1.

Many Problems Faced In Europe

End Of War Hasn't Ended Problems Reports Under Secretary Of War

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(INS)—Under Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson declared Thursday that problems left in the wake of the war in Germany will impose serious obligations upon military authorities in Europe for many months to come.

Patterson, just returned from several weeks touring Europe and conferring with military leaders, said these problems included consolidation of the occupation of Germany, institution of policies of overall Allied control and zonal administration of a stern government, and a program of de-Nazification.

"In this connection, the economic needs of countries which have been despoiled by Germany must be consulted," Patterson said. "Germans must be put to work to produce their own food. German industry must be controlled and war industry ended."

Are Well Fed
"Disposition must be made of the millions of German prisoners of war. War criminals must be prosecuted firmly and promptly."

Patterson said that he found Germans everywhere well fed and well clothed in striking contrast to slave laborers and persons in other parts of Europe. He foresaw, however, considerable difficulty in compelling Germany to produce her own supplies due to a lack of manpower and no slave labor.

Transportation, he reported, was completely paralyzed excepting military supply movement. Not a train is moving excepting for the military, while in the waterways, which Germany has always relied on heavily for communications, barges and boats are sunk or moored, Patterson said.

SUPERIOR COURT DECISIONS

In a superior court decision, written by Judge Chester H. Rhodes, more light is shed on the question of distribution of moneys collected by the county commissioners from the sale of property upon which taxes were delinquent.

The decision arose out of a case in Lackawanna county in which an appeal was taken from the order of the court of common pleas which distributed the money received from the sale of a delinquent property.

The county commissioners claimed the money should be applied to the taxes in the order of their age.

The superior court upholds this view and says that moneys received from such sales shall go first to the oldest tax and then on through the list. For example, if a property in Lawrence county were sold for delinquent taxes the money would not now be divided according to the total delinquencies due each taxing body.

If the oldest tax were for county taxes of 1934, the next taxes were county and city of 1935, the next county, city and school for 1936, the money would first go towards liquidating the 1934 county tax. What was left would then be divided between the county and city for 1935 taxes and if this bill were liquidated what was left would then be prorated between county, city and schools.

This decision may have the effect of holding up the distribution of rents until the properties being rented are sold and the entire proceeds allocated under the provisions of the latest superior court order.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 18.—Life insurance policyholders and beneficiaries in New Castle were paid $965,000, almost a million dollars, during 1944, according to a special compilation released today by The National Underwriter, weekly insurance newspaper.

Pennsylvania, altogether, ranked second in life insurance payments among all states.

Philadelphia ranked first in Pennsylvania, with Pittsburgh second and Scranton third. New Castle ranked 18th, following Williamsport which had $1,775,000 in payments from life insurance companies, and preceding Easton which had $540,000, and Beaver Falls with $930,000.

Special War Bonds For Eighth Drive To Honor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(INS)—Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau announced plans today to issue special war bonds with the picture of President Roosevelt and one of his quotations as a slogan for the eighth war loan drive.

Morgenthau said this was being done as a result of thousands of requests for a special commemorative bond. He said the bond may be of a new denomination to make it entirely different from any other bond on sale.

Morgenthau declared that he, personally, will reward the three members of the working press who make the best quotation suggestions.

Only accredited members of news services, radio and periodical staffs, and newspaper reporters stationed in Washington will be eligible to enter the contest. The prizes will be a $100 bond for the quotation used, a $50 bond and a $25 bond for the second and third best suggestions.

The question selected for the special bond issue in the next drive will be announced on Memorial Day, Morgenthau said.

'Cutbacks' Reach Large Figure

PITTSBURGH, May 28.—(INS)—War production "cutbacks" since V-E day have reached an estimated $200,000,000 in western Pennsylvania. It was revealed today by Laurence P. Arnold, director of the Smaller War Plants Corporation.

He asserted SWPC was insisting daily that the War Production Board permit the small plants to convert to peacetime production.

Charles P. Martin Given Testimonial Thursday Evening

Testimonial Dinner Tendered Retiring Carpenter Foreman Of B. & O. Railroad

Tribute was paid to the faithful service of Charles P. Martin of 414 Electric street upon his retirement as carpenter foreman of the B. & O. railroad Thursday evening, when a large crowd of B. & O. employees gathered in the Sons of Italy hall on South Mill street for a testimonial in his honor.

Mr. Martin has just completed 25 years of service with the railroad, 31 of which he has been foreman, and in all these years he has won a host of friends who will wish him well on his retirement.

Following a delicious spaghetti dinner, served by the ladies of the Sons of Italy lodge, a number of Mr. Martin's friends were called upon by Toastmaster A. C. Harris, former neighbor, who is chief clerk to the division engineer of the B. & O. railroad at Akron. Mr. Harris was introduced by John W. Riggins, track supervisor here.

Those who spoke included Terminal Trainmaster Charles Richards, Assistant Roundhouse Foreman Frank Doyle, Car Shop Foreman Clifford Davis, Ray Nolte of the transportation department, Ralph Audino of the Federated Shop Crafts, Jay Hoffman, division signal superintendent; Harry Ross, freight department; W. H. Kilbreath, retired water station foreman; I. J. Bowman, track foreman; R. B. Jamison, master carpenter of the Akron division, and Erwin Neugebauer, acting carpenter foreman.

In conclusion, Martin Beard, assistant division engineer, presented Mr. Martin with a purse of money as a token of the high regard in which he is held by his fellow employees.

Arrangements for the evening were in charge of Andy Sarbo, who did a splendid job.

He was graduated from North Beaver Consolidated High school, class of 1942. Prior to entering the armed forces May 7, 1943, he was employed at Lockley Machine Co., this city. On V-E Day the Purple Heart was awarded.

Pfc. Crawford has also received Good Conduct Medal, Expert Combat Infantryman's Badge, and E.T.O. Ribbon with four Bronze Battle Stars. He went overseas December 13, 1943. He was 20 years of age.

STEADY PROGRESS HEADQUARTERS SOUTHEAST ASIA COMMAND—(INS)—Figures released today of the sick rates of S.E.A.C. troops, show that the principal diseases which caused such loss in the 1942 campaign, are being brought steadily under control. The sickness incidence is now about 1.3 per thousand per day or just one third of the 1943 figures, and probably half of the 1942 rate.

Briefer Than Ever, Suits Expose Gals To Sun--And Admirers

By JEANETTE SMITS
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, May 18.—The boys are going to see a lot more of girls this summer—that is, if they visit the beaches.

"Bare, brief and beautiful" is the title of the 1945 bathing suits and play clothes displayed at a fashion show by a leading Fifth Avenue department store. It's remarkably descriptive.

If anyone doubts that swim suits this summer can be any more "bare and brief" than in the past few seasons, the answer is—they certainly can, and are.

The majority of the highly attractive and decorative creations at the showing staged by Arnold Constable featured the "bare midriff" the short bra and exceedingly brief trunks (in some cases called "diaper pants") for swimming and beach wear.

The top, held up by halter or shoulder straps, left the shoulders and back bare—a boon to ardent sun-bathers. Even in the one-piece suits, the same motif prevailed, with one outstanding suit having a single shoulder strap.

These designs, according to the stylish, offer "freedom of movement, rhythm and softness in slim, brief lines and revolutionary diplomacy for portraying easy comfort." The costumes are dedicated to "the two favorite American pastimes—sea bathing and sun-basking."

CLEAN WALLS

Before you wash the walls and ceiling of your kitchen, dust them with a wall brush or a broom wrapped around with a clean cloth. This removes much of the loose dirt and cuts down on the washing time.

McKim Will Aid In Prosecution Of Nazi War Criminals

It was learned today that Attorney John R. McKim, formerly of New Castle, who is now in the armed services has been appointed to the War Crimes Commission which will take action against war criminals of Germany.

Mr. McKim is now in camp in Maine, but is preparing to leave for overseas where he will take up his new duties. When he was a member of the Lawrence county bar he had offices with Attorney Mont L. Key and the now district attorney, Le Roy K. Donaldson.

The mocking bird was made the official bird of Arkansas by the 1923 session of the state legislature.

Reveal Freak War Accident

Liner Loaded With 15,000 U. S. Troops Accidentally Sank British Cruiser

LONDON, May 18.—(INS)—One of the war's freak accidents was revealed today in which the great luxury liner Queen Mary—carrying 15,000 American troops—rammed and sank the British cruiser Curacao.

Most of the cruiser's complement were lost since the Queen Mary was racing to escape U-boats and could not stop to search for survivors. The British admiralty revealed that 338 British seamen and officers went down as the cruiser sank almost immediately.

The great peacetime luxury liner was traveling at full speed for Clyde, Scotland, with two cruisers as swift escort when the accident occurred October 2, 1942.

When a submarine was sighted on the port bow, the great ship immediately wheeled to starboard to take evasive action. At the same time the Curacao swung toward the submarine at full speed.

The combined impact of more than 80,000 tons of crushing steel of the Queen Mary rushing forward at 20 knots and the momentum of the Curacao smashed the cruiser and sliced it in half.

Mindful of her important cargo, the Queen Mary swept ahead and was able to reach port under her own power although her own bow was caved in from the terrific blow.

There were no casualties among the thousands of American troops and the British seamen aboard the Queen Mary.

In a review of all losses, the admiralty announced the loss of 10 destroyers, eight submarines, one escort carrier, two armed merchant cruisers, one sloop, one frigate, three auxiliary boarding vessels and 136 smaller ships.

Dr. Howard M. Marcy, president of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, was the speaker at the meeting and he chose as "the responsibility of the tuberculosis worker to his company, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, outlined the common problems of war veterans.

There is danger of tuberculosis problems "will be let down in the possibility of many undermined of the war."

Miss Frances

Brophy, New York, connected with the Christmas Seal sale staff of the National Tuberculosis association. The day's conference was attended by representatives of 15 tuberculosis organizations in southwestern Pennsylvania.

New Sanity Hearing For Movie Actress

SEATTLE, May 18.—(INS)—A new sanity hearing was booked today for blonde Frances Farmer, former movie picture star, after complaint by her mother, Mrs. Lillian V. Farmer.

Miss Farmer will be examined at King County Hospital Monday. Her mother asked that she be committed to a state institution again on the grounds that the erstwhile University of Washington student "is not a safe person to be at large."

The former actress was released from the Western State hospital for the insane July 28, 1944, four months after entering the institution.

HARRISBURG — Pennsylvania has more retail stores than any other state with the exception of New York, and more than all New England states together, according to the State Commerce Department. Nearly 348,000 persons are employed in them, officials reported.

Reduction In Expenses Must Await V-J Day

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(INS)—Sen. Harry E. Byrd (D) Va., chairman of the joint congressional economy committee, said today that people who expect an early and stiff cut in government expenditures are doomed to disappointment.

The real economy wave, Byrd predicted, will not come until after Japan is defeated.

While President Truman recommended cuts in future estimates for the maritime commission of over four billions and $80 millions from several war agencies, these cuts may not make much of a dent in a federal budget which has run around $100 billions.

Byrd, however, believes that Congress may find some places in which it can trim expenditures. He added that federal agencies should be examined and their expenditures determined upon how much they are adding in the war against Japan.

"I believe, however," he said, "then when the war against Japan is over the people will insist upon real economy in government. The number of government employees, now over three million, should be cut to a million and a half."

"I believe that we must balance the budget after the war. We should levy taxes for what we spend. That was intended by the constitution, but we have abandoned that for 16 years."

Council approved a motion whereby Ivor B. Davis will be paid $2,150 for property bought by the city for the extension of Reynolds street from Scioto to Moravia street. The money will be paid as soon as Davis executes a bond for $100 that he will remove the buildings and clear the lots which council stipulated must be done before July 1 and the deed is approved by the city's legal department.

City Engineer John Z. Street has been instructed by city council to prepare plans and specifications for a storm sewer to run through the hollow near Park avenue to Blaine street. The motion was submitted by Finance Director Albert Hoyland and unanimously passed. According to reports there is an open water course into which sanitary sewer discharges.

The speed of U. S. Army Ordnance tanks in crossing the Rhine bridge at Remagen was more than the Germans expected and scores of enemy vehicles had to be left in the thick woods on the hill above the city.

Shenango Chorus Operetta Receives Audience Acclaim

Sparkling Performance By Young
Singers Thursday Evening
Wins Large Audience

With an eye full of bright, ruffled costumes and mantillas swirling through gay students dances, and an earful of merry tunes, the audience in Shenango high school's auditorium Thursday evening was highly pleased by the student's ambitious production of "The Belle of Barcelona," an operetta of Spanish intrigue and romance.

One of the most unusual performances given by a local school audience for some time, the operetta was presented by the mixed chorus, with a number of talented soloists in leading parts. Opening with "Gaily We Dance," the Spanish students welcome home Marguerita, played by Dolores Bruno. A sequel to the story of the girls features this opening, and is followed by the song "I've Found Her," sung by Carl Granato as the young lieutenant of the U. S. Marines, who recognizes Marguerita as the girl he fell in love with in America.

Marguerita, however, is betrothed to a "schemer" held in the Spanish problem, played by Anthony Sarbo, whose schemes are revealed by Pedro, the manager who is forced to assist the villain. Marguerita's sentiments become very clear in the duet "No, No, No" which she sings with the villain, just before the foretold, Emilio, played by Merle Zeigler, and the students take over the state with the "Foretold Chorus." Further numbers by Emilio and his sweetheart, played by Catherine Sager, and Marguerita and her lieutenant were unusually good. George Tervo, as the red-headed Irish cop, was the audience's favorite after his number "Woman Divine."

Dramatically ending with both pairs of lover united, the Irish cop blissfully in love with the English governess, and the villain forgiven, the operetta concluded with singing by the entire cast. Others taking solo parts in the fine performance were: Jean McConahy, Carl Almes, Lois McIlwraith, Wesley Pombell, Phyllis Smith, Gladys Feil, Dale McKissick, John Cochran and Jack Bader as the captain of the Marines who did some intricate drilling.

Pianists for the operetta were Ann Paton and Carolyn Cox. Dialogue and costumes were under the supervision of Miss Margaret Cowmeadow, while the music and singing was directed by Chester Kyle.

Medical Cost Of War Staggering

Nearly 1,000,000 American Casualties. Many Will Need Long Hospitalization

V-E DAY DID NOT DIMINISH COSTS

By ERWIN D. SIAS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The treasury department disclosed today that "increasing demands" are being made on medical services of the army, navy and air forces despite the end of the European war.

Ted R. Gamble, national director of the treasury's war finance division emphasized the cost of caring for the wounded with assertion that if all army hospital beds alone are filled, the maintenance cost is one million 675 thousand dollars daily.

"We have now nearly a million casualties in this global war and many of them will need hospitalization far longer than the average 45 days," Gamble said.

Show Vital Cost
"This is cited not to shock the public but to show one vital cost of the war that did not diminish on V-E Day and will not end with victory over Japan."

Meanwhile, Gamble reported that individual sales totals in the 14 billion dollar 7th war loan stand at one billion, 382 million dollars, 382 million dollars, of which one billion 65 millions are in E bonds.

Quoting figures supplied him by the armed services, the war bond chief disclosed:

1. More than 500,000 military and naval hospital beds are provided in the various facilities.

2. Current bed capacity in army general hospitals in the United States alone is 264,900, with 70,000 more expected to be put into service before the end of 1945.

3. Army Airforces maintain separate hospitals with 56,000 bed capacity.

4. Navy had 94,475 patients as of May 1.

"To keep up with the cost for the army alone, nearly 100,000 series E bonds of $25 face value would have to be sold at $18.75 each and every day in the year," he said.

Let's give 'em another donation!

1923—was the year in which the most devastating earthquake of our time ravaged Japan. It was also the year that a sympathetic America rushed relief by the shipload to the stricken islands.

Our donation then included food, clothing, medicines—even doctors. They repaid us for this softhearted gesture, all right—at Pearl Harbor. And that was only the beginning of their gratitude.

1945—is a year for donation, too. The kind the war lords will understand. A gift of bombs and incendiaries. Of mighty broadsides from our battleships.

It's going to cost plenty to show those Japs we aren't the suckers they played us for. And that's where each and every one of us comes in for our share of the cost.

If you are to meet the quota Uncle Sam has set for you in his great 7th War Loan, it will mean sacrifice on your part.

Well, we've learned a lot since 1923. We've learned a lot about sacrifice . . . and war. The best way to get this business over with fast is to support our Forces to the limit of our ability with cash.

Remember—last year, by this time, you had twice bought extra Bonds. The Mighty 7th is really two loans in one: that's why it's bigger than before. Find out what your quota is . . . and make it!

WAR COMMISSION BOARD

NEWS AND VIEWS AT CAPITAL

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 18.—Two men who have been prominently mentioned in Capitol Hill political circles as possible Democratic candidates for governor in the 1946 election are army men currently serving in the European theatre of operations. They are Gen. Carl (Tooe) Spaatz of Bovertown, Pa., and Lt. Col. T. L. Hoban of Scranton.

Hoban reportedly holds the inside track for the Democratic nomination. He was on a leave of absence from Lackawanna county court when he entered the service. He was liberated from a German prison camp and has returned to Camp Kilmer, N. J.

There are reports that U. S. Sen. Joseph F. Guffey of Pittsburgh would toss his hat in the gubernatorial ring but many Democratic workers feel he will seek another term in the senate. G. Harold Wagner of Penn. Lake, who took over the auditor generalship on May 1, has been advanced as a potential gubernatorial candidate.

When Wagner assumed his new office, many employees under F. Clair Ross and Ted A. Rosenberg were dismissed. Some observers interpreted this action as a move by Wagner to staff his department with appointees who would be of service to him in the gubernatorial campaign. The 44-year-old auditor general's term will not expire until May, 1949. A governor will be elected in November, 1946.

Although Gov. Edward Martin has not yet approved a measure appropriating $6,500,000 for the extension and development of Capitol Park, the extension commission has reported the purchase of 59 of the 335 properties included in the two-square block area which will be eliminated and replaced by a park.

Included in the proposed construction plans for the Capitol Park group is a structure honoring William Penn, Quaker founder of the Commonwealth. Plans also call for the raising of five temporary structures located at the rear of the main building.

Known as the "temporary" buildings, the structures were erected during the first World War.

The Pennsylvania Alcoholic Beverage Study, Inc., a non-profit organization, carried out an effective campaign during the 1945 session of the general assembly for improving conditions in the liquor business.

The organization issued a 48-page booklet outlining its position on each of 59 bills affecting the industry . . . for example, on a bill increasing the number of beer distributors' licenses, the organization pointed out that such a move would not circumvent the spirit of the 1939 quota law limiting retail outlets because the six-year-old statute "was necessitated by the social evils resulting from an excessive number of retail outlets." It was added that "the sale of beer by distributors does not have such social consequences."

Actresses Need College Training Says New Star

NEW YORK, May 18.—(INS)—Today in Hollywood there is only a handful of actresses who have been to college but tomorrow it's going to be different, according to pretty Joan Caulfield, herself a college gal.

Considering that she has just finished her first feature production, "Miss Susie Singler," and knows Hollywood life for only a few months, Joan may be viewed as quick on the draw mentally in making such a sizeable prediction. If so, she is willing to blame her college education at Columbia, which immediately preceded her successes in the Broadway hit, "Kiss and Tell".

Says she: "Like man had to feel his way through Neanderthal and Cro-Magnon stages—and the same—before becoming streamlined by civilization so, many actresses have had to progress in the movies. They got out of the Neanderthal wilderness when science ushered in the sound track. Then intelligence as well as beauty became requisite. Now with things being complicated additionally by television, why it just takes higher education to make it easier to wrap yourself around some of the new words."

Joan believes an actress cannot afford to stop learning these days. "The higher she rises in her profession, the greater are the demands made upon her time to address public gatherings and be quoted in print. She should prepare her own speeches, whether they deal with the sale of war bonds or solicitation for some institution. And to do this she has to know a lot more than being able to comprehend an order from her director."

Joan was east to visit her parents. Her initial work netted her a long term contract which calls exclusively for movie work for the next seven years.

TRUCK INNOVATIONS

MONROE, Mich.—(INS)—Truck drivers are going to have a place on the postwar equipment agenda. Innovations which include revolutionary seats and hydraulic shock absorbers already are off the drawing boards and have been controlled successfully in long-time tests, the Monroe Auto Equipment company announced.

Many of the old writers record a three-days shower of blood red rain in the Island of Rhodes, and throughout southern Italy, in the year 1236.

The 852,000 employees of the nation's cities and towns draw a monthly payroll of $122,000,000, the International City Managers association reports.

State Highway Program Ready For Initiation

Five-Year Program Will Include Elimination Of Bottlenecks At Pittsburgh

By JAMES H. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, May 18.—(INS)—The Commonwealth's $516,000,000 road construction program will be inaugurated "as soon as possible" after the Federal government eases manpower and material restrictions, Secretary of Highways John U. Shroyer said today.

Shroyer was confident the five-year program could be initiated within a few months.

"We are ready with our first year program in blueprints and maps and are prepared to swing into action just as soon as they ease restrictions on steel and manpower," Shroyer stated.

May Begin June 1

"I have made a request to the governor for permission to hire approximately 31,000 workers beginning June 1," he added. The present field force numbers 9638 men.

"The postwar program is built along the line of creating work. Our first objective will be to eliminate bottlenecks such as narrow bridges, sharp curves and dangerous underpasses and overpasses."

Shroyer was unable to estimate the extent of the proposed program and pointed out that labor and material conditions at the time of the work will be determining factors in the number of miles of highways constructed or improved.

"We're not going to build anything just for the sake of spending money," he asserted. "There will be no monumental structures." Shroyer emphasized that the department would not cast aside its routine maintenance work on 40,500 miles of state highways in favor of the huge road building program.

Gov. Edward Martin has demanded elimination of traffic bottlenecks at Pittsburgh and Harrisburg, as well as modern highway bisecting Eastern Pennsylvania from the New York-Pennsylvania line through the Anthracite fields to an undetermined point near Harrisburg.

Shroyer said that while Pennsylvania's vast highway network was "in good condition," the road surfaces had deteriorated during the past winter when snow removal cost the state approximately $66,500 each day for 18 weeks.

Need For Farm Help Is Growing

Backward Season Creates Demand For Additional Labor In Getting In Crops, Cameron States

Because of the backward weather of the past few weeks an additional demand for farm labor has been created, it was stated today by D. L. Cameron, farm labor assistant, at the office of the Farm Labor Board in the Y. M. C. A. More help will be needed in getting in crops when the weather becomes favorable, and anybody who can give some time to this important task is asked to register at the Farm Labor Office in the Y. M. C. A. or to call 6982.

Men who are laid off in local industries during the period of transition from wartime to peacetime manufacturing are asked to volunteer for farm labor work. Prevailing wages are paid, and the change would give many a beneficial uplift.

Older boys are also asked to volunteer for work on the farms this summer when school is out.

Cloak Of Secrecy Placed Around Sub Surrender

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., May 18.—(INS)—A cloak of secrecy suddenly was placed today around plans for the surrender tomorrow of giant Nazi U-boat 234, with three Luftwaffe major generals and possibly two dead officials aboard.

Newspaper interviews with surrendering Nazi submariners were unexpectedly cancelled for "security reasons." A special strong navy force was announced as enroute to the Portsmouth navy yard from Washington to take charge of the U-234 crew and passengers. The latter will be taken direct to Washington, it was stated.

Fritz Kuhn To Be Deported Back To Germany Soon

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(INS)—An immigration appeal board today ordered the deportation of Fritz Kuhn, pre-war German bund leader.

Kuhn currently is interned in a "special stockade" at Ft. Stanton, N. M., an enemy alien camp.

The justice department said that Kuhn's deportation was based on a New York State conviction of grand larceny and forgery.

The immigration board held that he is "unlawfully in the United States...in that he has been sentenced to imprisonment for a term of one or more years because of conviction in this country of a crime involving moral turpitude committed within five years after entry."

His wife, Mrs. Elsa Kuhn, and his son Walter, who is 17 years old, were repatriated to Germany in 1944. Kuhn will be deported when American military authorities in Germany decide that conditions are satisfactory for his return.

Kuhn, born in Munich, Germany, was admitted to the United States in 1928. He was naturalized in 1934 and de-naturalized in 1942.

ECONOMICAL JAPS
OKINAWA.—(INS)—Americans are not the only persons urged to save tin foil for the war effort. Numerous wads of shiny wrappers are sent in Okinawa's deserted houses and stores. Collecting propensities had spread to the dental industry as well. Observed on the shelves of one dental office were three jars of teeth apparently extracted from patients.

BEST LANDING FIELDS
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(INS)—Wheat fields make the best emergency landing fields in the country according to 15th Air Force pilot Lt. George Podwojsky, who crash landed-deadstick-in his B-24 after losing all four engines coming home from a mission. "The only casualty," he recalled at AAF Redistribution Station No. 1 here, "was myself. I choked on a cheese cracker I was munching at the time."

Keep It Coming

We should not relax our efforts in the highly important job of collecting all available waste paper—all kinds—wrapping paper, paper bags, corrugated paper board, wastebasket scraps, newspapers and magazines. Failure to keep the mills adequately supplied threatens a continuing flow of supplies to our armed forces and will seriously affect practically all civilian uses of paper. . . . That message from the War Production Board is directed to you, Mrs. America! If you have been saving some waste paper, start now to save all waste paper. The shortage of waste paper is more critical than at any time since the War began. Waste paper can be used to make new paper. Paper can be used again and again. Don't burn your paper or throw it away. Save it and turn it in. Your waste paper isn't waste paper unless you waste it! When you save it and turn it in, your paper helps to supply just about everything our armed forces must have to keep fighting.

Zelenople will give Union a lot of competition and so will Shenango in the field events. Union shines in the dashes with Lou Dell, the streak, conceded the 100 and 220 events. Zelenople will be strong in the distance races, with Shenango, Mars and Bessemer gaining points in the field events. It was indicated.

Navy Favored In Meet On Saturday

Middies Aiming To Set New IC4A Scoring Record In Meet Tomorrow

WEST POINT, N. Y., May 18.—(INS)—Navy today was a strong favorite to repeat in the 69th annual intercollegiate A. A. A. outdoor track championships which will be held here tomorrow with 21 colleges competing.

The midshipmen are aiming to beat the IC4A all-time scoring record of 81 points which they established at Philadelphia last year when Army was second with 35 points.

Army again looms as Navy's most dangerous rival. In fact, best performances this spring show the cadets, IC4A indoor champions, on top with five events. Navy ranks second on the list with four. Dartmouth three, Pennsylvania two and New York University and Columbia, one event each.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER (International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, May 18.—The threat of a St. Louis Cardinal run-away in the National League pennant race has been interrupted—and perhaps permanently stopped—by a series of incidents that started when the Cooper brothers deserted from the club before the opening of the season.

The thing that has fettered the club and plagued Manager Billy Southworth has been a combination of "temperament, physical ailments and outright losses to the armed services. Mort, the pitching Cooper, was still at large today after his second desertion and Walker, the catching Cooper, meantime has been inducted into the navy and whisked off to Great Lakes.

Mort Leaves Cards
Mort Cooper, one of the hurling heroes of the last world series and regarded as a standby in the Cards' quest of a fourth straight pennant this year, left the club flat in Boston Wednesday without an explanation to Southworth, who had expected him to pitch one end of a double-header. He told others there was sickness in his family.

He has been indefinitely suspended, and the Cards suddenly find themselves knocked off balance and into the second division without the mound strength to pull them back together. Max Lanier is headed for induction; Ted Wilks, 17-game winner last season, has a sore arm and other pitchers are ailing one way or another.

Southworth expressed surprise that Cooper had jumped the team and said that he had been getting along perfectly with the big pitcher since the Cooper's differences with the Cards at the start of the season had been settled for the time being.

Huffed About Salary
All this started, as you probably recall, when the Coopers, a few days before the opening of the season, demanded $15,000 contracts upon learning that Marty Marion was receiving $13,500.

They got together with Sam Breadon, got together with Leslie O'Connor, who was running the commission's office, and the thing had been settled with a slight hike and promises.

Walker Cooper was removed from the argument when Uncle Sam reached out and nailed him, leaving Mort to carry on.

Breadon told International News Service today that he did not know what had caused Mort to quit the club. "I went as far as I could with him," Breadon said, meaning in salary.

"This is a tough time for him to quit the club with our pitching staff in its present condition," said Southworth when he finally was informed that his pitcher had left the club in Boston.

Observers of the baseball scene almost unanimously insist that the trouble with the Cards—a trouble that could very easily lead to their blowing the pennant—is traceable to owner Braden's reluctance to pay salaries comparable to the ones the Coopers might get with another club.

Salary difficulties are not exactly new with the Cards, nor display of temperament by the players.

Whatever the trouble, the Cards are in a tough spot at the moment as the Brooklyn Dodgers, the New York Giants and the Chicago Cubs continue to show strength in a race that was virtually conceded to the Cards at the start of the season.

The quicker they get Cooper back the better off they will be.

Louis Deli Is Union Star In Class B Meet

Deli Wins 100-Yard Dash, Second In 220, E. Bigley Second In Shot-Put

UNION FIFTH IN MEET AT CLAIRTON

Union high school's valiant track squad, paced by the sensational sprinting of Louis Deli, finished fifth in the annual class B WPAL track and field meet held at Clairton Thursday. Union finished with 18 points, just six-sevenths back of Plum Township. The meet was won by Brentwood High with 58.5-15th points. Fifteen schools were entered in the meet.

Union High by the great showing at Clairton will be highly favored to win the tri-county track and field carnival to be staged at Taggart stadium Saturday.

Deli Is Outstanding
Deli winning the 100-yard dash in the time of 10.7 seconds, and running second by inches in the 220-yard dash, not only brought fame to himself but gave Union a place on the annual state class B championship at State College on May 28.

Elmer Brown, Union's potent shot-putter, also won a place in the state finals by a second to Christopher of Brentwood, who incidentally was high-point man for the meet with 10 points.

Union was second high point getter in the meet with 9.3-4 points. Jones of Sewickley finished third with nine points.

Patterson Well Pleased
Coach Wilbur Pat Patterson is more than pleased by the performance of his Unionites in the first meet of this kind that they have ever entered. Union served notice on the tri-county track and field carnival to be staged here at the stadium Saturday at 1 p. m. that they will have to be reckoned with.

Despite the inclement weather and the poor condition of the track some fine time was turned in, and many fine marks set in the field events. Betts of Union lost an opportunity to qualify for the state meet in the low hurdles when he slipped at the start and finished two tenths of a second back of the qualifying time.

Qualifying Results
Union might have finished higher had it not been that they had to scratch the 880-yard relay when Deli pulled up with a stomach cramp following his winning of the 100-yard dash. This was an unfortunate circumstance for the stalwart Union blue and white clad cinder stars.

Union High is to be congratulated on the splendid showing of the squad although lacking in the experience that some of their competitors had. Track has only been revived at Union this spring and the boys have responded in a manner that is gratifying not only to the coaches but the school.

HARRISBURG, May 18.—(INS)—George Gainford of New York, a second, and four Pittsburgh boxers were under indefinite suspensions today after the State Boxing Commission investigated bouts at Harrisburg and Pittsburgh.

Pirates Thump Dodgers 12 To 3 As Giants Win

Giants Increase Lead To Three Games Over Brooklyn, Cards Beat Boston

AMERICAN LOOP IS RAINED OUT

By LES CONKLIN (International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, May 18.—With rival contenders falling by the wayside for one reason or another, the New York Giants today were installed as the solid favorite to win the National League pennant this season.

By pulling an 8 to 5 decision out of the fire against the Chicago Cubs yesterday, the Giants made it twelve victories in their last thirteen starts and also racked up their 20th triumph in 25 starts this year. This ties the mark made by Cincinnati in 1912.

Pirates Thump Dodgers

Meanwhile, Brooklyn's dream of destiny suffered a severe jar when the Dodgers' eleven-game winning streak was punctured in no uncertain manner by Pittsburgh. Scoring five runs in the third inning, four in the seventh and three more in the ninth, the Pirates belabored four Brooklyn pitchers for 15 hits and swamped the Dodgers 12 to 3.

While Nick Strincevich was holding the Brooks to six hits, the Reds made short work of Tom Seaver, former Pacific coast star who had shut out the Cardinals in his last start.

The defeat left the Dodgers three games behind the league-leading Giants.

Cards Trip Boston

The world champion St. Louis Cardinals, whose pitchers either have some arms or are quitting the club or face induction into the armed forces, managed to beat the Boston Braves 7 to 4 thanks to Ken O'Dea's double in the fifth with the bases loaded.

Two old men faced each other on the mound in Philadelphia when 40-year-old Walter Beck of the Reds tangled with Whit Wyatt, former Brooklyn star trying to make a comeback with the Phillies. The Reds won the game 4 to 2.

Poker, gin rummy and pinocle continued to absorb the attention of American League athletes. Due to cold or rainy weather, no games have been played in the junior circuit since Sunday. And what a headache that is going to be for the various managers when double-header pile up later in the season.

Before the war there were more than 60 million people in the United States legally eligible to vote.

TALKING about how U. S. sports writers "never gave a square deal all the time I was in your country," Max Schmeling, the German who held the world heavyweight boxing championship, said that "even when I won they only said I was lucky or a big bum." United States sports writers may have been undecided then as to whether Der Meike was "lucky" or whether he was a "big bum." They aren't now. Maxie is a "big bum" Maxie also complained about not getting a lot of space in the newspapers, saying "the only decent picture they took of me was when I was lying flat on my back." American sports would like to give him a lot of space right now—at least six feet of it all under ground.

Fighting step, in the money five times out of eight starts last year, has checked off a 1413-5 mile at Churchill Downs in preparation for the Derby.

Fighting Step won two races last year. He belongs to the Murphy stable. Howard Barry, new publicity man for the Arlington-Washington Park tracks, is a former Chicago sports writer.

Sportsman's Park, Chicago, carries this notation in an ad: "No children admitted." Paraway Island ran faraway from the winners to other day at Narragansett. Gay Dalton, winner of eight straight and $78,970 at Mexico City is owned by Gaylord Dalton and Dalton Denton.

Happy Chandler, the new baseball commissioner, is a good story teller. Here's one he told at a recent luncheon in Cleveland. The revelers were looking for a still back in the mountains in Kentucky. They came upon a little boy and asked him if he knew where the still was. "Sure I do," the little fellow said, "and I can take you to it for $2." The revelers told the little boy to take them to the still and they'd pay him on the way back. "Oh, no you won't," the little boy said. "I'll take my $2 right now." The revelers wanted to know why he couldn't wait for his money until they came back. "I gotta have it now," the little fellow said. "For you ain't coming back!"

When Ed Stanky booted one the other day, it was the first error after 38 straight chances for the Dodgers infielders. New York Giants have averaged one homer a game. Army is tough in baseball, too. The Cadets beat Yale 25-1 and Columbia 18-0. Navy has won 11 in a row.

Van Lingle Muroso hasn't finished a game for the Giants this season. Wes Ferrell has quit as manager of Greensboro after being advised by his draft board to discontinue baseball if he "wants to retain his farm classification." It's supposed to be a "trolley" Derby again this year. Clang, clang, clang goes the trolley—June 9.

Seek To Curtail Athletic Travel

Approve 15-Point Program To Curtail College And High School Athletics Travel

STILL PROHIBIT CHARTERED BUSES

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(INS)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association and U.S. educational leaders Wednesday had approved a fifteen point voluntary program to curtail college and high school athletics transportation.

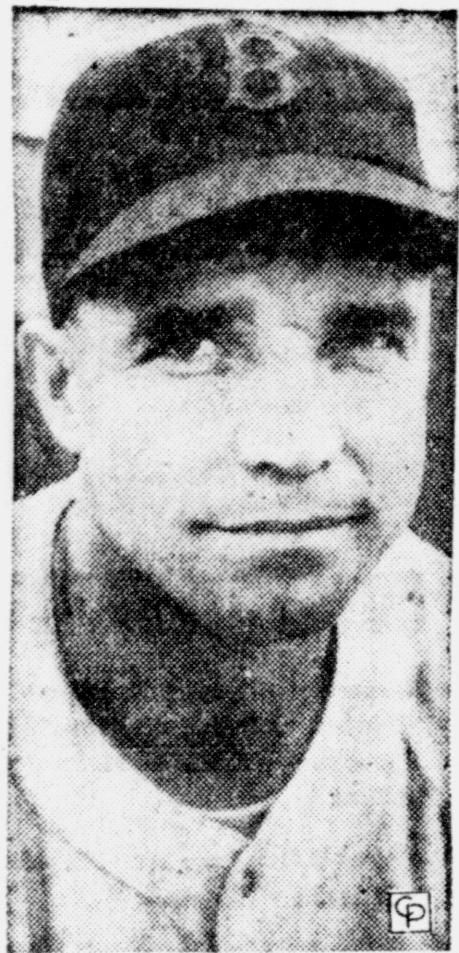

ODT Director J. Monroe Johnson announced approval of the program which was formulated in the light of his warning that the next 12 to 15 months will be the "most critical in American transportation."

Johnson simultaneously warned that unless transportation conditions improve "markedly" before the football season opens games scheduled away from home fields would have to be eliminated. In addition, all sports travel would be drastically curtailed to meet military and other essential needs.

Prohibited Chartered Buses

Johnson also pointed out that present prohibitions against the use of chartered buses and school buses for sports travel and similar needs would continue.

The program includes: Elimination of all unreasonably long trips; limitation of contests to the grounds of one or the other of the competing teams or urban playing fields located between the respective home grounds; limitation of ticket sales to the immediate vicinity of the contest; and reduction of the number of athletes making a trip to the absolute minimum.

This work is to be started at once upon signing of the contract and completed as soon as possible.

Plans and specifications for said work may be had by prospective bidders by application to the office of the County Commissioners at the Court House at New Castle, Pennsylvania, on deposit of $1000.

Russian Delays U.S. Ambassador Going To Czechoslovakia

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(INS)—Laurence A. Steinhardt, American ambassador to Czechoslovakia, is "taking a vacation" in New York today, waiting for Soviet permission to enter the country to which he was appointed by President Roosevelt.

Though Czechoslovakia has now been liberated, American diplomats are not free to go there because Soviet occupying forces have not yet given clearance.

This affects not only Steinhardt, but also a staff of assistants now in London.

Governor Signs Several Measures

HARRISBURG, May 18.—(INS)—Legislation increasing workmen's compensation and occupational disease benefits from $18 to $20 a week was signed today by Gov. Edward Martin.

He temporarily withheld action on the increased payments proposed in the unemployment compensation program.

Simultaneously the governor approved a measure liquidating the depression-born general state authority. The general assembly earmarked $48,872,240 of the state's surplus for the retirement of the agency's debts.

"The repeal of the act creating the general state authority will remove the menace of placing unlimited indebtedness upon the Commonwealth without first submitting such proposals to a vote of the taxpayers," Governor Martin declared.

Elimination of the GSA from the Commonwealth's governmental structure will net a $2,500,000 biennial saving, he asserted.
